

Special Event

Professor Richard (Dick) Strugnell
The University of Melbourne

Molecular Biology can't be ignored

Dick will discuss the penetration of molecular biology into all disciplines of biological research, the raising of consciousness in molecular biology brought on by the GMO/GM food debates, and the challenge to provide a secondary curriculum that yields a simplified explanation of often very complex phenomena, while retaining the excitement and intrinsic beauty of many recent biological discoveries.