

Fay Marles

Her election as the 18th Chancellor of the University of Melbourne in February 2002 marked a new opportunity for Fay Marles to demonstrate her commitment to the University's life. She has had past involvement in the University Council, several committees and task forces as well as the Equal Opportunity policy, for which her personal interest and solid experience in the areas of workforce equity or efficiency and dispute resolution - in both public and private sectors - were solicited and appreciated. During her present term of office, she will encourage the increasing in the number of indigenous graduates as well as the graduate and Alumni support in preparation of the University's 150th Anniversary Celebrations in 2003.