

The Nature of Scarves

The 2003 Annual Craft Victoria Lecture

as part of the Melbourne Scarf Festival and the Flagship Conference: International Perspectives on Peace and Reconciliation at the University of Melbourne.

Liz Williamson

One of Australia's most highly regarded weavers.

The scarf is an accessible form of clothing that links people of surprisingly diverse cultures. Liz Williamson's lecture The Nature of Scarves reviews historical references, cultural and social reasons and individual attitudes towards the wearing of scarves, which she relates to the creative challenge of designing textiles.

Liz Williamson is the Textiles co-ordinator at the University of New South Wales, College of Fine Art, School of Design Studies. She is internationally renowned for her innovation and skill in weaving and dyeing, employing both traditional techniques and computer technology.

6.30 pm Thursday 17 July 2003

The Sidney Myer Asia Centre Lecture Theatre.

The University of Melbourne. Corner Swanston Street and Monash Road, Parkville.

Tickets $12 / $10 student concession and Craft Victoria members) includes GST.

Peace and Reconciliation Conference delegates free of charge.

Bookings are essential and can be made through Craft Victoria by email craftvic@craftvic.asn.au or on 03 9650 7775.

Seats are limited and payment is required upon booking.

Liz Williamson's Melbourne visit is kindly supported by the Adelphi Hotel

